

Yes, I'd like to support Coastal Mountains Land Trust's land conservation efforts by enrolling as a member.

Our levels of membership support are based on representative coastal mountains located in our service region. Please indicate your level of membership support and provide a check (payable to Coastal Mountains Land Trust) or credit card information below:

- $ 5000+ Mount Megunticook
- $ 1000 Ragged Mountain
- $ 500 Frye Mountain
- $ 250 Moody Mountain
- $ 100 Ducktrap Mountain
- $ 35 Mount Tuck
- $ 25 Mount Percival

Name: _____

Mailing Address: _____

City: _____

State: _____ Zip: _____

Phone: _____

Email: _____

Credit card #: _____

Expiration date: _____

Please send to:
Coastal Mountains Land Trust
101 Mount Battie Street
Camden, ME 04843

Or Click on "Become a Member" @
www.coastalmountains.org

Passagassawakeag Greenway CITY OF BELFAST TRAIL SECTION

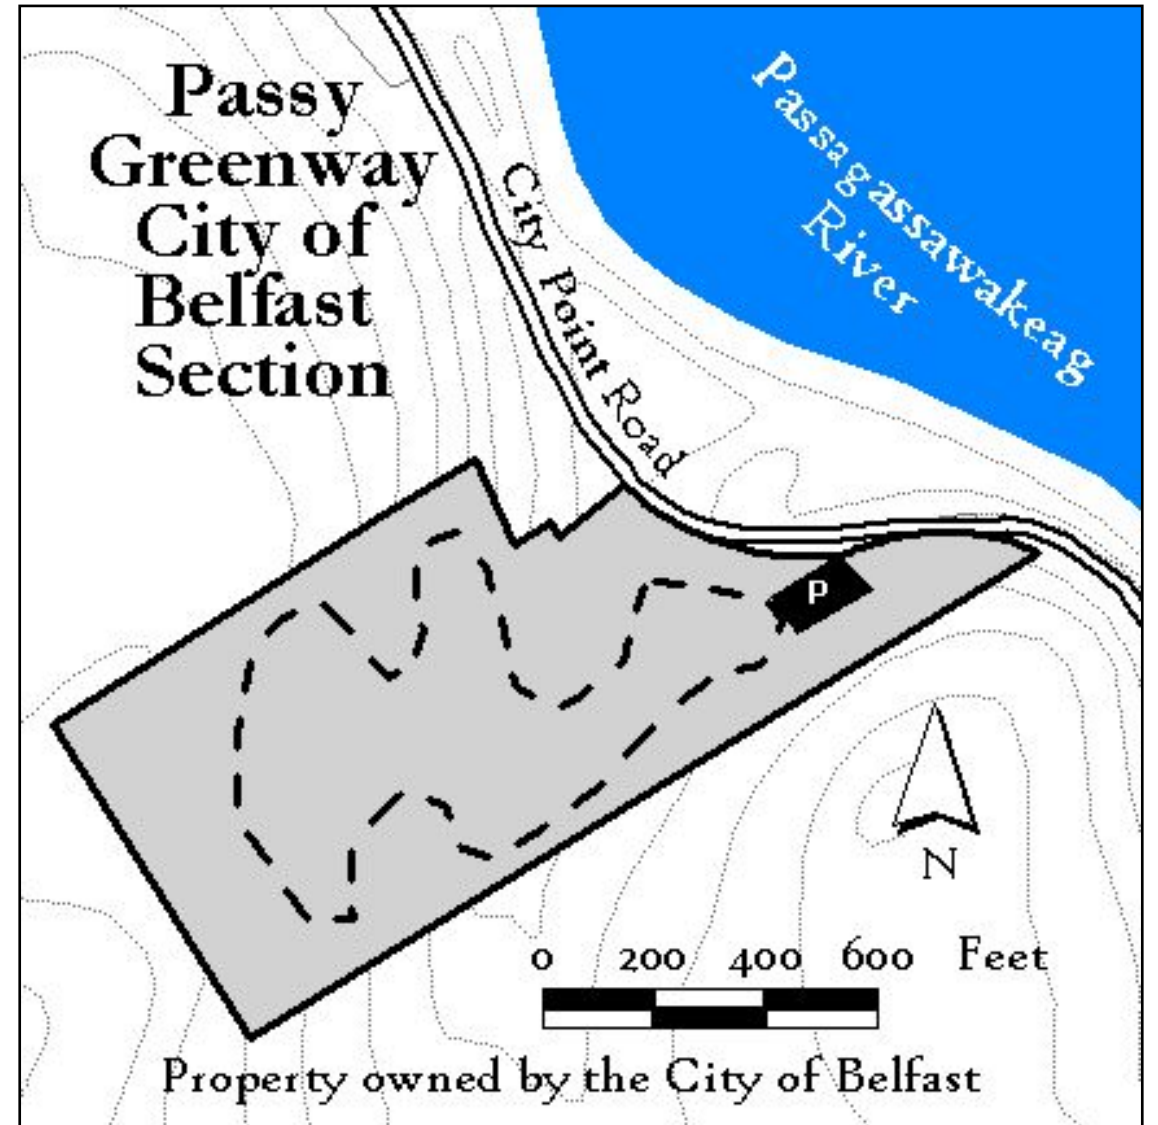

Guide & Trail Map

101 Mount Battie Street
Camden, Maine 04843
207-236-7091

www.coastalmountains.org

Copyright. Reprinting & printed use of information contained herein by permission only. For additional copies please contact Coastal Mountains Land Trust.
3/10 Edition.

Trail Information

The Passy Greenway City of Belfast trail section is a 1-mile loop trail that begins at the parking lot off City Point Road.

Difficulty: Moderate, with a steep incline and some uneven ground.

The Trail

Belfast's 'City of Belfast Section' of the Passagassawakeag Greenway is a 1-mile loop nature trail located on property owned by the City of Belfast that offers visitors an enjoyable walk in close proximity to downtown Belfast.

Situated along City Point Road, just beyond the Knowlton-Swanson-Stephenson Preserve as you leave town, this trail explores a beautiful mixed hardwood-conifer forest and crosses several small streams before climbing to a highpoint on the bluff that looks down across much of this parcel.

This section of the Passy Greenway trail system was made possible by an agreement between Coastal Mountains Land Trust and the City of Belfast to allow a year-round nature trail to explore this city-owned parcel.

During your visit, look for...

Northern white-cedar, Thuja occidentalis, also called arborvitae or "tree of life" which dates from the 16th century when the French explorer Cartier learned from the Indians how to use the tree's foliage to treat scurvy.

Japanese knotweed, Fallopia japonica, a widespread invasive exotic plant that is a pest and threat to native habitats throughout midcoast Maine.

Hints of the property's land use history as Belfast's former ski slope. As you walk the property you might notice forest patterns that show where ski runs once existed or you might find the machinery from the old rope tow.

Passy Greenway City of Belfast Trail Section Guidelines

Please help us keep this trail a pleasure for all who visit this natural area.

- This trail is open to the public for low-impact recreation during daylight hours.
- Removal of native vegetation is strictly prohibited.
- Fires and camping are not allowed.

- Vehicles, motorized or non-motorized including bicycles and horses, are not allowed on the trail. Bikes are to remain in parking areas only.
- Bicycles are not permitted on the trail except in parking areas.

Directions

Delorme Maine Atlas and Gazetteer Map 14, A-4

From Route 1...

Heading South into Belfast, take first exit after the bridge towards Route 7/137. Turn left onto High Street. Follow straight past convenience store, road becomes City Point Road. Follow approx. 1 mile. Entrance to parking lot is first left around curve after you pass the Knowlton-Swanson-Stephenson Preserve.

Heading North, Take Route 7/137 Exit (first exit after Reny's Plaza). At stop sign, go straight for one block. Turn left onto High Street and straight across Route 1. Follow straight past convenience store, road becomes City Point Road. Follow approx. 1 mile. Entrance to parking lot is first left around curve after you pass the Knowlton-Swanson-Stephenson Preserve.

Coastal Mountains Land Trust is a membership-based non-profit working to permanently conserve land to benefit the natural and human communities of western Penobscot Bay. Since 1986, the organization has protected or facilitated the protection of more than 8,000 acres of land as preserves or conservation easements.

All of the Land Trust's preserves are open to the public.

The Land Trust works cooperatively with landowners in the western Penobscot Bay region to permanently protect biological diversity, scenic landscapes, and agricultural, forest and water resources, to promote awareness of the value of land conservation, and to provide opportunities for the public to enjoy and experience natural lands.

Join Us!

The Land Trust is an accredited community-based organization that relies upon the generous support of its members and volunteers. Please consider becoming a member and/or volunteer with the Land Trust.

